The European Partnership Programme enables students to complete their final year of undergraduate studies at Cranfield University.

Cranfield University has double degree arrangements with a number of high quality European institutions. Our European Partnership Programme (EPP) offers the opportunity for highly motivated students to combine the final year of their undergraduate studies with one of our Cranfield degree programmes. Successful completion of the Cranfield MSc will normally be accredited by your home institution as an equivalent to your final year of study. Most of our postgraduate degree courses are available to EPP students, however we are not able to offer places on a part-time basis or for the

Muscat University

Muscat University is a new, high quality international university located in the centre of Muscat, the capital city of the Sultanate of Oman. The university has a strong global commitment to innovation and entrepreneurship with close connections to the business communities of Oman and the wider region. Its programmes combine academic rigour with relevance to the world of work. The Oman Education Council gave approval to its establishment as a university in April 2016, and the Ministry of Higher Education issued a licence to operate in October 2016.

Cranfield and Muscat University

Cranfield University is offering six programmes with Muscat University to equip professional learners in the region with the postgraduate skills suited to Oman's ambitions in infrastructure development, logistics and wider commerce:

Faculty of Transport and Logistics

- MSc Logistics and Supply Chain Management
- MSc Air Transport Management

Faculty of Engineering and Technology

- MSc Energy Systems and Thermal Processes
- MSc Process Systems Engineering
